² Within the Royal Stand Package you will have 1 reception counter in the chosen colour of your wall with company logo. If you have more than 36 m² the second counter is without the logo.
³ The catering of the stand packages has been determined on a fixed amount of food and/or beverages per day, based on your stand size:
- 0 - 17 m²: 4 persons
- 18 - 35 m²: 8 persons
- 36 m² and more: 12 persons

Please note an artist impression of the different stand packages is available via METSTRADE.com.

All packages are subject to change. If applicable the project team will be in touch with all exhibitors at the earliest opportunity to explain the changes.

Space allocation

Space is allocated at the organisers’ discretion, based on the availability of space and taking the wishes of each exhibitor as much into account as possible. If a waiting list needs to be established as a result of lack of space, this will be handled by date of receipt of the registration form. No rights can be claimed from allocations of prior METSTRADE exhibits. Account is taken, wherever possible, of your wishes for the number of m² and preferences for stand dimensions and location. However, the organisers cannot guarantee in advance that your wishes will be met.

Invitations

Exhibitors can order invitations for distribution to their clients. The first 200 (Standard and Deluxe package) or 300 (Royal stand package) ordered invitations are free of charge and can be ordered via the Exhibitor Portal/Web Shop. Purchased invitations cannot be refunded by RAI Amsterdam.

Terms of Payment

In accordance with the provisions of article 7 of the Standard Terms, the uniform stand construction package costs should be paid in two instalments, namely:
- 1st advance invoice of 25% of the total number of square metres reserved, plus the registration fee: within 21 days of the date of the first advance invoice (advance invoices are sent from 365 days before the exhibition).
- 2nd advance invoice of 100% (minus the 25% of the first advance invoice): within 21 days of the date of the second advance invoice (these are sent from 90 days before the exhibition).

No advance invoices are sent from 90 days before the exhibition. In the event of application less than 90 days before the first build-up day of the exhibition the amount owed should be paid in full together with the application, but at least four days before the first build-up day.
Media Solutions
To put your company in the spotlight before, during and after the Event, RAI offers participants several Media Solutions such as online advertising, advertisements in the show catalogue, advertising in- and around the RAI Convention Centre, video and narrowcasting.

VAT Regulations
Due to VAT rules regarding the place of supply of services, whereby RAI does not have to invoice Dutch VAT on stand rental and stand construction, Participants must enter their full VAT number on the Registration Form or enclose a statement from the tax authorities that qualifies them as a taxable person. If this information is not provided, we are obliged to charge Dutch VAT on all our invoices. This rule only applies to non-Dutch Participants.

Disputes
Any complaints should be made within 30 days of the last day of the exhibition. Complaints brought to our attention beyond this deadline will not be addressed.

Protecting Your Intellectual Property
Exhibitions have proven to be an excellent platform to showcase new innovations for technology and products to the market for the first time. Research has shown that learning about new innovations is one of the most important reasons for visitors to attend an exhibition. But when your company is investing time, money and resources in research and development you want to make sure you can protect your innovations and receive the full benefits of the investments made. RAI Amsterdam understands how important this is for you and is pleased to provide some practical tips on how to protect your Intellectual Property (IP) rights in The Netherlands and avoid IP conflicts.

What is IP?
Intellectual property refers to “creations of the mind: inventions; literary and artistic works; and symbols, names and images used in commerce.” In this context, we refer to, for example, patents, trademarks or industrial designs:
- A patent is an exclusive right granted for an invention, for example a product or process that provides a new (technical) solution to a problem. Registering a patent would provide the owner of the patent with protection for their inventions.
- A trademark is a distinctive sign that identifies certain goods or services provided or produced by a company or individual. By registering a trademark, it ensures that the owners of the trademark have the exclusive right to use them on their goods, products and services.
- An industrial design refers to the ornamental or aesthetic aspects of a product or design. It can refer to three-dimensional features, like shape or surface, or to two dimensional features, like patterns, lines or colors.

Registering your IP
How, when and where to register your innovations (products and brands) differs per country and region. As an international business, it may very well be prudent to register your IP in all of the countries in which you do business. Please note that registering your IP rights takes time and that this is preferably taken care of well in advance of any exhibition in which you intend to participate. For more information, we refer to the links provided at the end of this document.

What you can do
Protecting IP is the responsibility of the exhibitors themselves. As an exhibition organiser, RAI Amsterdam does not have specific knowledge of product development and IP protection in your industry. Furthermore, METSTRADE 2022 is an independent platform for the industry, and can only advise and assist you in case of (suspected) infringement. Your innovations are best protected by registering patents, trademarks and/or design rights and by identifying and warning (possible) infringers with a cease and desist letter before the exhibition starts. Of course we understand that conflicts may arise during the exhibition, and for that purpose RAI Amsterdam has set up an IP Legal Desk to provide you with preliminary advice in urgent matters. More information on how the IP Legal Desk can help you before and during the exhibition is described hereafter.

Before the Exhibition - Three steps to avoid IP issues
As an exhibitor, you do not want the hassle of dealing with IP rights issues during the trade show. You want to spend your valuable time meeting clients and prospects, and doing business. It is therefore best to avoid any IP conflict at the exhibition altogether. There are several ways you can prevent an IP conflict, by taking some time in advance of the exhibition to identify possible infringers of your IP rights and by taking action to prevent them from exhibiting the (possibly) infringing product(s).

1. Review the exhibitor list: The exhibitor list at METSTRADE.com is regularly updated. Most companies even list (some of) the products they will be exhibiting on their own webpage which is linked to the exhibitor list. Review this list in advance to see if there are any companies of which you suspect that they might infringe on your IP.

2. Warn suspected infringers: If you see a company on the exhibitor list that might infringe your IP, send them a cease and desist letter warning them not to exhibit these products at METSTRADE 2022, or face immediate legal action from you. A template letter is available in the Exhibitor Portal. Please keep in mind that RAI Amsterdam is not an IP mediator and that you will have to make your own consideration as to when to send a letter and its contents. In view hereof, you will also find a list of attorneys in the Netherlands in this document which we recommend you contact in order to assist you on a more tailor made letter, or can help you prepare legal action in case the products are (threatened to be) exhibited after all.

3. Request a border seizure and/or preliminary injunction: If you suspect that products infringing your IP will be brought into the Netherlands, you are entitled to request that the Dutch Customs confiscate these goods. If the Customs agree with your request, they will stop these goods at the border and ask you to look at the products to see if they really infringe your intellectual property. The contact details of the Dutch Customs Agency can be found at the end of this document. In some cases it is also possible to request an injunction from the Dutch courts in advance of an exhibition, preventing the threatened infringement. Moreover, this is sometimes possible without notifying the suspected infringer in advance.

Be prepared: Bring your patents, registrations and trademarks to the show.

The IP Legal Desk or a law firm you may contact can only assist you if you can show your patents, registrations, trademarks etc. It is therefore important to bring these documents with you to the show.

The IP Legal Desk at METSTRADE 2022

Our in-house counsel will be available during to advise you on what steps you can take to protect your products, brands and trademarks. If need be she can refer you to specialized IP attorneys. These specialized attorneys can also advise you what to do if you decide to go to court in the Netherlands for suspected or detected IP infringement during the exhibition. The IP Legal Desk can be contacted through Organiser’s Office.

During the Exhibition - What to do if your IP is infringed
If you see or suspect infringement of your IP rights during the exhibition you can approach the (suspected) infringer to notify them of your IP rights. If that does not have the desired result, it is possible to send a cease and desist letter. If that also does not work, it is possible to go to a Dutch court to obtain an injunction, which is a provisional decision obliging the other party to stop the infringement, for example by no longer displaying and offering the product(s) during the exhibition.

IP Legal Desk
Contact the IP Legal Desk (available on call) and present your case in the Organiser’s Office (Monday 14 November & Tuesday 15 November 2022) who will carry out a prima facie review of your case. If necessary, they will refer you to someone who can further assist you.

RAI Amsterdam does not have the means to enforce the removal of any products from an exhibition without a court ruling. We can only request the product to be removed, and ban an exhibitor and a specific product from the exhibition floor, if a court ruling has been granted.

Cease and desist letter and preliminary proceedings

1. Deliver a cease and desist letter: As described above, it is generally advisable to first deliver a cease and desist letter to an infringing exhibitor, demanding that they stop exhibiting the infringing product(s) or face immediate legal action. A template letter is available in the Exhibitor Portal. The IP Legal Desk can assist and advice you.

2. Go to court for injunctive relief: If the exhibitor refuses, you can go to a Dutch court in a Preliminary Proceeding. Basically, you would be asking the court to make an urgent provisional ruling that demands that the product(s) can no longer be exhibited. If the court rules in your favor, RAI Amsterdam will always cooperate with bailiffs and comply with court-imposed measures. A list of recommended attorneys based in the Netherlands can be found at the next page of this document. The IP Legal Desk, which can be contacted through the Organiser’s Office can also assist and advise you.

3. Enforce the injunction: if the court has granted an injunction, the decision can be enforced with a bailiff. He will then go to the infringer on your behalf and notify the infringer of the decision that obliges the infringing acts to be stopped immediately. If the infringing acts nevertheless continue, it can be possible to remove the products from the exhibition by way of a seizure (for which court permission is also necessary). The bailiff will then confiscate the product(s) and related promotional materials at the exhibition.

The recommended IP law firms listed below can assist you with these steps.
